

The image shows three modern, minimalist chairs arranged in a row against a white wall. The chair on the left is black with a black base. The middle chair is olive green with a matching base. The chair on the right is light grey with a matching base. All chairs have a curved, ergonomic design. A green metal ladder is visible on the far left. The floor is a light-colored, textured surface.

Fiber Chair - møbel med træplastkomposit

Claus Jacobsen, udviklingschef møbler, Muuto

FIBER CHAIR

/ Iskos-Berlin

"One of the most difficult and noble disciplines is to design without eccentricity. To create simple, well functioning, almost ordinary objects that nevertheless have strong identities. We designed FIBER CHAIR to do just that with a clear sculptural language that refuses to compromise on comfort. It's a chair stripped of all unnecessary layers leaving only a harmonious shell for nesting yourself into. The iconic form marries soft, embracing curves with an environmentally friendly wood fiber composite, giving FIBER CHAIR a distinctive tactile texture while also keeping it recyclable."

MUUTO
New Nordic

FIBER CHAIR

/ Iskos-Berlin

“One of the most difficult and noble disciplines is to design without eccentricity. To create simple, well functioning, almost ordinary objects that nevertheless have strong identities. We designed FIBER CHAIR to do just that with a clear sculptural language that refuses to compromise on comfort. It’s a chair stripped of all unnecessary layers leaving only a harmonious shell for nesting yourself into. The iconic form marries soft, embracing curves with an environmentally friendly wood fiber composite, giving FIBER CHAIR a distinctive tactile texture while also keeping it recyclable.”

“One of the most difficult and noble disciplines is to design without eccentricity. To create simple, well functioning, almost ordinary objects that nevertheless have strong identities. We designed FIBER CHAIR to do just that with a clear sculptural language that refuses to compromise on comfort. It's a chair stripped of all unnecessary layers leaving only a harmonious shell for nesting yourself into. The iconic form marries soft, embracing curves with an environmentally friendly wood fiber composite, giving FIBER CHAIR a distinctive tactile texture while also keeping it recyclable.”

MUUTO

Soft but clear

MUUTO

by Alvaro Siza